The screenshot displays the MIT OpenCourseWare website for the course "Signals and Systems" (6.003). The browser address bar shows the URL <http://ocw.mit.edu/courses/electrical-engineering-and-computer-science/6-003-signals-and-systems-fall-2011/>. The page header includes the MIT OpenCourseWare logo, a newsletter subscription form, and social media links. The main navigation bar features a home icon, a "Courses" dropdown menu, and links for "About", "Donate", "Featured Sites", and a search bar. The course page itself has a breadcrumb trail: Home » Courses » Electrical Engineering and Computer Science » Signals and Systems. The course title "Signals and Systems" is prominently displayed. A sidebar on the left contains links for "COURSE HOME", "SYLLABUS", "CALENDAR", "READINGS", "LECTURE VIDEOS AND SLIDES", "ASSIGNMENTS", "EXAMS", and "DOWNLOAD COURSE MATERIALS". The main content area features a large graphic with the course number "6.003" and the title "Signals and Systems" with the subtitle "modeling — analysis — design". To the right of this graphic, the instructor is listed as Prof. Dennis Freeman, the course number is 6.003, it was taught in Fall 2011, and the level is Undergraduate. There is a "CITE THIS COURSE" button. Below the graphic, there are social media sharing buttons for Facebook (179 likes), Twitter (22 tweets), Google+ (15), LinkedIn, and a "Submit" button. A "Donate Now" button is also present. On the right side of the page, there is a "MIT NOTICE" section with a "PUT MIT TO WORK FOR YOU" banner, encouraging enrollment in MIT classes through the Advanced Study Program. A small "ALWAYS OPEN" graphic is also visible.
